Dear Explorer,

Welcome to the world of Zodiac.

For over 130 years, we've pushed the boundaries of what's possible on the water. What began in the skies crafting airships and pioneering inflatable technology soon sparked a revolution at sea.

On the eve of World War II, engineer Pierre Debroutelle adapted our aviation expertise to develop the world's first inflatable boat. Light, fast, and easy to deploy, it redefined marine mobility and launched a legacy that would span oceans and generations.

That legacy deepened when Jacques-Yves Cousteau chose Zodiac boats to turn his dream of underwater exploration into reality. With his vision and our vessels, a new era of discovery was born proving that adventure isn't limited by obstacles, only by imagination.

Today, we carry that same spirit forward designing boats that reflect how people truly explore. From past to present, our mission remains the same: to take you further.

Start exploring, and write your own story just like we did.

See you on the water,
The Zodiac Nautic Team

Rooted in history and driven by innovation, we've evolved
through the decades to make waterborne adventure
accessible to all.

FROM CONCEPT

All Zodiac boats are designed and built in our two manufacturing facilities: a 25,000-square-meter site in Gujan-Mestras, located on the Arcachon Basin in southwest France, and a 15,000-square-meter facility in the heart of Enfidha, Tunisia, home to a dedicated team of over 220. Both sites manage the full scope of production from initial design to final quality control.

Removable Tubes
– A Zodiac Innovation

Zodiac’s removable tubes feature a bolt rope that slides into a built-in hull groove. Easy to disassemble and fold, they simplify maintenance, transport, and storage.
